

COIN WEEK — By proclamation of Oceanside mayor Howard Richardson, April 21 through 27 is Coin Week here. Showing rare coins to the mayor are

George Frakes, treasurer of the OK Coin Club and W. S. Wright of the American Numismatic Association which boasts 39,000 members.

es Class To Mountains

Vince Montagna and Charles Allen from last year, read back packing and nature books and articles. And they were warned to keep on the trails and out of the proliferous poison oak plants.

Students will be using aluminum-frame back packs and light-weight butane stoves purchased by the school this year at bargain rates from an importer. They will provide their own sleeping bags and pay for their cost of the food, expected to run about $5 per student.

Cooking on the butane stoves (because of the danger from open campfires) will be done in small groups of two to four persons. Last year the style was family cooking as a unit, but it proved awkward.

National Coin Week was brought to the attention of the members and guests of the Oceanside-Carlsbad Coin Club at our regular meeting, April 12, 1974, by William S. Wright (LM 1119). Bill is our ANA Representative.

We found that Club Members were reluctant to exhibit their coins this year as there has been a rash of burglaries in the area.

Charles Nissen, a Charter Member of the Club, exhibited six boards of Foreign Coins at the San Diego Federal Savings and Loan, Oceanside branch. He also showed Foreign Currency at the Security Pacific Bank in Oceanside.

George Frakes, Club Treasurer, had a display at the Oceanside Post Office which he named "Post Office Miscellany". The exhibit consisted of Medals, War Stamps, Tokens and other items pertaining to the Postal Service.

The Oceanside Blade-Tribune featured a photograph of George Frakes and Bill Wright with Oceanside's Mayor Howard Richardson. Mayor Richardson was most cooperative in arranging to meet with George and Bill to sign the Proclamation and be interviewed and photographed.

Frank H. Wagner, 2285 Highland Drive, Carlsbad, signed an application to become an ANA member.

Club President, Roland Cinciarelli, talked about ANA and NCW at our April meeting, and the Club Secretary, Betty M. Young, handled the "paper work" and arranged for displays and the photograph.
